By RICH ADAMS
A Pass Christian teenager was killed and three persons injured in four separate one-car accidents, local law enforcement agencies reported.
Funeral services were conducted Tuesday for Bruce Douglas Irving, a 16-year-old junior at Pass Christian High School killed in an accident Sunday.
He apparently lost control of his car Sunday at 2:48 a.m. and struck a tree at the intersection of US-90 and Church Street in Pass Christian, police report.
The youth was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin D. Irving, 519 Prentiss Road, Pass Christian.
He was active in football and track at Pass Christian High School.
Irving was buried in the Biloxi National Cemetery Tuesday.
In an unrelated incident, a Waveland man is listed in "stable condition" with neck and back injuries at Gulf Coast Community Hospital in Biloxi following a one-car mishap on the 500 block of DeMontluzin Road in Bay St. Louis Saturday afternoon.
Bay St. Louis Police Chief Douglas Williams reported that Hugh David (Butch) Hill, 28, of Waveland, apparently lost control of the car he was driving north on DeMontluzin Avenue.

MOTORIST NAVIGATES on Waveland's aptly named Water Street which flooded when 4.41 inches of rain fell continuously in this area since Sunday. Brother Leon, St. Stanislaus High School weatherman who made measurements at 7 a.m. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of .75, 2.0 and 1.66 inches, respectively, said the gradual nature of the precipitation probably was responsible for the fortunate lack of major flooding problems. Sheriff threatens charges against Chancery clerk

By LESLIE WILLIAMS
Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan Ladner has threatened to file embezzlement charges against Chancery Clerk John Rutherford in connection with a $3,217 summons fee debt Ladner alleges is owed to the sheriff's office.
The sheriff has set Saturday as the deadline date for payment of the alleged debt which covers a period from January, 1972, through November, 1978.
The controversy between the sheriff and the court clerk surfaced Monday at a Hancock County Board of Supervisors meeting where Ladner, Rutherford and Board President Alton Kellar engaged in a verbal battle over budgetary matters and management of the Depreo trial jury.

"I told Rutherford Dec. 4, 1978 if he did not pay me the $3,217 in delinquent summons fees by Feb. 10 I would file charges against him," said Ladner.
Following the board meeting, Ladner explained the summons process which led to the alleged accumulation of delinquent fees by the Chancery Court clerk.

Council rehires Burk after secret session

By ELLIS CUEVAS
Bay St. Louis City Council Tuesday night authorized the engineering firm of Burk and Associates, Inc. to oversee completion of the Main Street project. Burk had been "fired" several times in previous actions by the Council over charges in engineering fees on the project.
Appearing before the Council were William R. Burk, III, president and George C. Klempeter, Jr., executive vice-president of Burk.
Council in addition to authorizing Burk to resume the project also gave Williams Paving Company, contractors on the Main Street project, the go ahead to finish the job to State and Federal specifications.

Agreement on terms seemed to have been met at a previous "unofficial" meeting last Thursday according to William Burk, in the way he addressed the Council, and was also addressed by them.
A letter from Burk also refers to the Thursday meeting, as it requests a payment of $2,499 to Williams for outstanding invoices and a bill totalling $4,862 to Burk for the project.
William Burk said work would resume as soon as the payments were made.
Each item was discussed separately by the Council. On the re-hiring of Burk the vote was four to one in favor. Council president James Thrifflay was alone in voting "no."
James Burk emphasized that there would be no additional engineering fees on the project from Burk, they would see the job all the way through.
Thrifflay brought up the lack of drainage caused by the Main Street project to the parking lot of Anthony's, saying he was "concerned about the lake created and what was in the mill about that."
Klempeter replied, "At the meeting last week we talked about two ways of solving the drainage problem. One would be to be back and overlay the parking lot in the low area or install a catch basin behind the curb tied into the street drain."

(Thrifflay stated as the meeting ended that he was not at the Thursday meeting with Burk representatives.)
Harry Farve, councilman asked Klempeter how much would it cost to repair the parking lot. Klempeter said, "The contractor gave an estimate of $400 or $500 last week, if it were done at the same time as the overlay was being done on the Main Street project."
Councilman Benvenutti reported, "I want to know that this Main Street project has been a thorn in our side, and it has dogged us all along, we inherited it. We have tried to solve the problems by getting the job done by some other means. I am going along to pay 50 percent of the $4,862 to Burk to get the job done," when the motion to pay Burk came up.
Councilman Fred Wagner, stated, "I think we have come to a compromise agreement, and I feel strongly we should pay the whole claim to Burk."
Farve seconded Wagner's motion.
Thrifflay questioned the Council, "If Burk doesn't perform what will hap-

Highway 43 collision kills one, injures five

By RICH ADAMS
A Picayune man was killed and five others injured in a two-car, head-on collision on Hwy. 43, eight miles southeast of Picayune late Tuesday afternoon.
Ramson Perkins Jr., 60, 804 Jones St., Picayune, was killed after his car apparently crossed the center line of the highway in rainy weather Tuesday and met head-on with a car carrying four youths, the State Highway Patrol reported.
Bay St. Louis Firemen were called to the scene at 5 p.m. to free Perkins from his car using the "Jaws of Life."

According to a Bay Fire Department spokesman, Perkins was still alive after he was freed from his wrecked vehicle.
The official said firemen freed the victim in less than 15 minutes after arriving at the scene.
"That's what 'Jaws' are all about...he was still alive. That's what 'Jaws' are for," the spokesman said.
According to the Highway Patrol, Perkins and his wife, Mattie Perkins, 62, were traveling on Hwy. 43 when their car crossed the center line and struck another car driven by Lee G. Holcomb, 17, Rt. 3, Box 22, Carriere.
A fire department spokesman said he could not tell in which direction the two vehicles were traveling prior to the accident.
Keith Martinez, 17, Bill Brown, 17, and Keith Katooth, 18, all of Picayune, were passengers in the Holcomb car.
Both Perkins and his wife and all of the youths in the Holcomb car were taken to Crosby Hospital in Picayune for treatment.
A hospital spokesman said Wednesday that Mrs. Perkins was listed in "stable" condition, with lacerations and a broken leg.

Holcomb and Martinez were transferred to Forrest General Hospital in Hattiesburg, where they are both listed in "satisfactory" condition with face and head injuries.
Brown was treated for lacerations and released from Crosby hospital, a hospital spokesman reported.
Katooth was admitted to Crosby Hospital for observation, the official added.
Highway Patrolman Curtis Newman is investigating the accident, a Highway Patrol spokesman said.

Chevis files for Beat Five Justice post

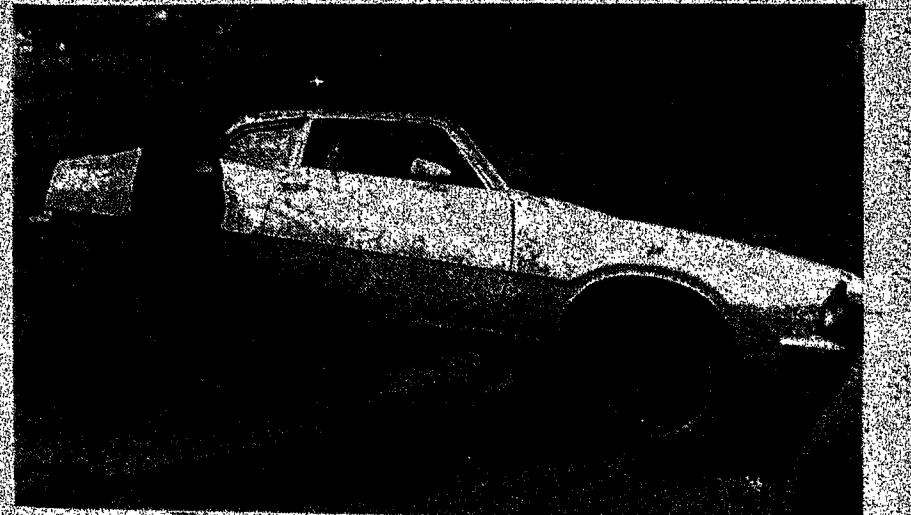

By ELLIS CUEVAS
Three incumbents and one new face to Hancock County politics have thrown their hats into the ring for the August 7, 1979, Democratic Primary Election.
Incumbents Edward (Eddie) Murtagh, Jr., tax-assessor-collector, and Justice Court Judge Lloyd Anderson, District Three; and Horatio Frierson, District Two, have filed for re-election.
John C. Chevis, Jr., county prosecutor, an appointed position, has filed for Justice Court Judge in District Five. William (Bill) Friable currently serves as Justice Court Judge in that District.
Winners may face runoff elections as well as Independent and Republican opposition in the November 6, 1979 General Election.

AG clarifies Councilmen's vote status

By ELLIS CUEVAS
Council member Pete Benvenutti read an opinion from the State Attorney General at the Bay St. Louis Council meeting Tuesday on whether two members of the Council, affiliated with the School system, could vote on the appointment of a member of the school board and on short term capital improvements to the school system.
A request for the opinion was written by City Clerk Eddie Engelhorn on Feb. 13, 1978 and the reply was dated Feb. 22, 1978.
The Council members to which the letter refers are Wilmer Seymour, a teacher, and Fred Wagner, architect for the school system.
The letter, signed by S.E. Birdsong Jr., special assistant attorney general, stated: "In response to your two questions, these two councilmen may vote on affirming the appointment and they may vote on the resolution necessary for the short term loan."
The letter was written particularly for the expiration of the school board term of W.E. Breland in March of 1978. It is assumed the letter was now made public because of the need to appoint a new school board member in the position held for 20 years by Robert Hamilton of Bay St. Louis.

Interest yields on U.S. Savings Bonds have been increased eight times since the first Series E Bond was sold on May 1, 1941. The current rate is 6 percent, (4 1/2 percent the first year) if held to maturity - and E Bonds bought today mature in 5 years. Outstanding E and H Bonds also benefit, so there's no need to replace them with new Bonds.

Americans buy 150 million individual U.S. Savings Bonds each year - mainly through Payroll Savings and Bond-A-Month Plans.

Silver Creek School to close in May

New federal regulations affecting special education will result in the closing of Silver Creek School at Kiln, Region XIII Mental Health-Mental Retardation Commission-Gulf Coast Mental Health Center has operated Silver Creek School, a day care center for developmentally disabled children, 3-21 years, since 1975.

Mrs. Anita Lamb of Bay St. Louis is the member of the Commission from Hancock County.

The State Department of Welfare has contracted with Gulf Coast Mental Health Center to provide this service to Hancock and Pearl River Counties which has been supported with local tax funds matched with federal funds from Title XX of the Social Security Act.

During the three years of operation, Silver Creek School has served 48 children.

The Education for All Handicapped Children Act of 1975 makes local education agencies responsible for providing all children, regardless of kind and degree of handicap, a free, appropriate public education.

In August, 1978, the State Department of Public Welfare notified Gulf Coast Mental Health Center that children ages 6 through 18 could no longer be enrolled at Silver Creek unless their school district could prove that it was financially unable to admit them.

The Hancock County School Board passed a resolution stating that they could not, therefore, DPW allowed Hancock County students to continue attending Silver Creek during the 1978-1979 school year under a contract which ends May 31, 1979.

The Bay-Waveland and Piquette School Districts admitted the children from their areas in the fall of 1978.

This means that 13 children must have appropriate special education services provided by Hancock County School District after May 31.

Gulf Coast Mental Health Center provides a Special Developmental Training Service which can serve the four children now enrolled at Silver Creek who will be under age six.

This is a training program in which parents are taught how to teach their children individually planned activities in the areas of gross and fine motor, communication, social, cognitive, and self-help skills.

The service is available to children 8 weeks through 5 years, and is also available to developmentally disabled adults with their training program emphasizing skills which foster greater independence and increased participation in community activities.

This is also a Title XX funded program. Services may be requested by calling 863-1132, a toll free number.

Q — I am rated 30 percent disabled for a service-connected disability. I understand that I can now draw additional money for my dependents. How can I get these additional benefits started?

A — The percentage of disability for entitlement to dependency benefits was reduced to 30 per cent by PL 95-479. If you have not already filed a claim for this benefit on the application form sent to all potentially eligible beneficiaries early in December, you should obtain VA Form 21-686C, complete it and submit it to your VA regional office.

Q — I was recently discharged from the military service. The only entitlement I have to school benefits is under Chapter 32 since I enlisted on Jan. 29, 1977. Am I entitled to tutorial assistance?

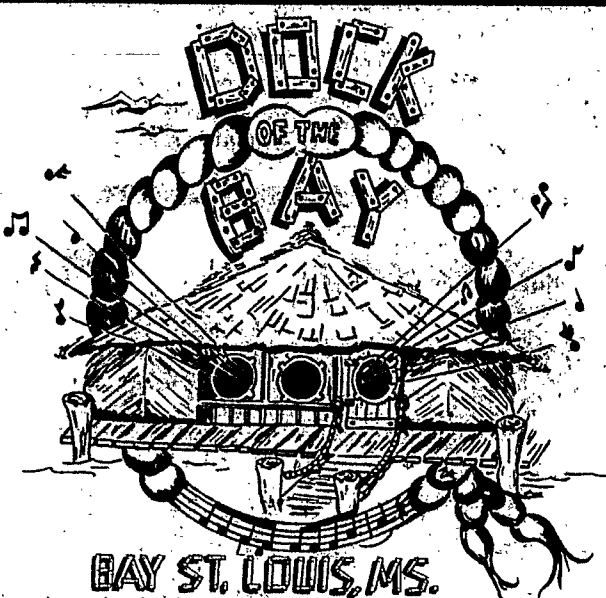

A — Veterans attending school under Chapter 32 are not entitled to tutorial assistance.

Q — I am totally disabled. My NSLI is on waiver of premiums on the term plan. Can I convert to a permanent plan?

A — Yes. You can convert your insurance to any of the permanent plans except the endowment plan. Premiums on the permanent plan to which converted will only be waived so long as you remain totally disabled.

Q — What happens if I don't complete and return the annual income questionnaire that came with my November pension check?

A — Your benefits will be suspended at the end of January 1979. You will not receive checks after that date until VA receives your completed questionnaire.

There may be need for a mediator!

We have heard many tales during the past few months as to why Hancock County School System residents do not want to be a part of the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School System.

We have also heard many reasons residents of Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School System residents are not in favor of being a part of the Hancock County School System.

We feel that there may be some good reasons and some which are not so good.

We are suggesting the only way to overcome those difficulties is the unification of the entire county into one school system.

For a unification system to become a reality, there must be complete agreement among the current school boards and political leaders as well as the other leaders of the county.

Since there seems to be some disagreement among the members of both school boards as well as the residents of the two school systems, we contend a mediator of some sorts should try to get the two school boards together, as well as the political leaders, to see if some type of agreement can be reached.

We notice in other areas where there is disagreement on wages, working conditions, etc. and no solution seems imminent, an outsider is called in as a third party, a sort of referee, if you will.

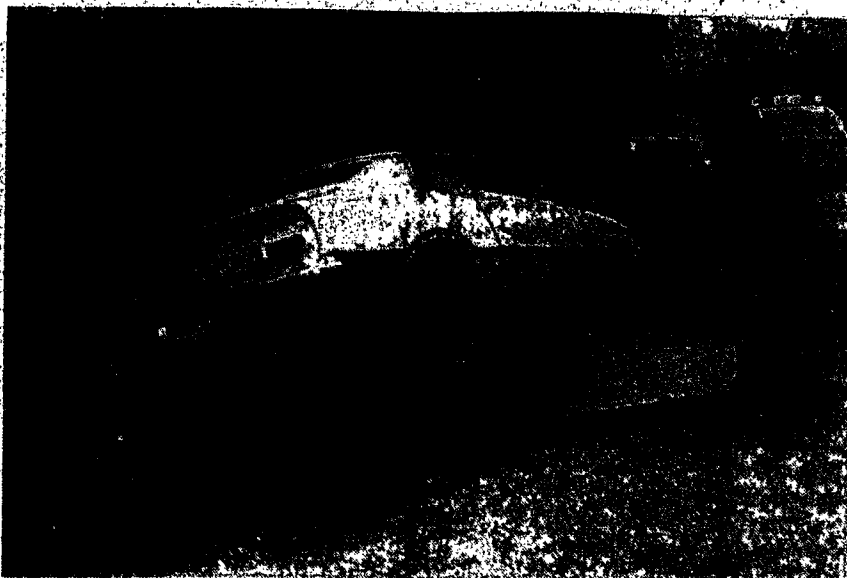

In Hancock County, we feel if anyone is to help with our problems, he should be from a group of people representing the entire county. If one starts looking for a group which covers the whole county, he finds there aren't many such groups around.

As a matter of fact, the only group which comes to mind is the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.

We would like to recommend the Chamber as mediator, if it is willing to take on the responsibility of organizing the school boards, board of supervisors, Bay St. Louis and Waveland officials and any others who would like to see better educational opportunities for our children.

Unification of the school systems does not have to be a long and drawn out affair. We realize it will take time, but then again, anything of value usually takes hard work.

Someone has to take the "bull by the horns," because we feel there is nothing of greater value than the future of our children.

A proposal by the firm of Moore and Powell, Certified Public Accountants, to perform a final audit of LPW Grant No. 04-51-26257, was unanimously accepted by the Bay Council Tuesday.

Moore and Powell agreed to do the audit at a fee not exceeding $1,000. The firm is located in Bay St. Louis.

Also Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. James Kambur appeared before the Council with a request to purchase or re-lease a piece of property adjoining property owned by them. Kambur's hold a lease on the property in question valid for 16 more years.

The property is a 16 foot strip along St. Charles and a narrow strip along Beach Boulevard.

Mr. Kambur said, "When we purchased the property 32 years ago, we didn't realize part of it was a lease. We have continuously paid taxes on the property."

After discussion, Board Attorney Joseph Gex was requested to work with the Kamburs and come up with something possibly at the next Council meeting for consideration.

In other business the Council discussed the contract with Gulf Regional Planning Commission for the Small Cities Project. Gex was asked to check the contract and he said it seems to be proper and in order.

Ronnie Murray stated that the $20,000 fee was the top figure and it would probably be less. Council requested a further break down on the fees to be added to the contract for consideration at the next meeting.

A discussion was held in reference to a private contractor to collect the garbage in Bay St. Louis. Attorney Gex was asked to prepare an amendment to the ordinance and the item was tabled for further study on a motion by Councilman Pete Benvenuti.

Kelly McQueen, City Clerk submitted a monthly report to the Council on building permits issued by the city. Council further requested the names, addresses, and type of construction or renovation be supplied in the future.

Joe Brown, of Joe Brown Engineers, Inc., reported to the Council on the Bouslog Street Sewer Extension.

Brown said, "The weather has got us trapped, we get the streets ready to resurface and the rains come. It will take a week of dry weather before street repairs can get underway."

Brown, also engineer for the Small cities project in the 500 block of Washington, Sycamore and Keller streets, gave a rough proposal to the Council on sewerage.

Brown stated in his research, "Sycamore and Keller are both dedicated streets, but I am unable to find where Washington has ever been dedicated. It was listed on some of the earlier maps of the city as being a street."

Brown was given approval by the Council to seek proposals from firms to do a soil sampling in the project area.

Brown discussed the use of only one pumping station instead of a lift station on each street. There also seems to be the need of possible easements, which will be studied by the Council.

In talking about the monies for the project Brown said, "It looks like a tight project, on estimates, and no funds are for street repair. The narrow conditions of Keller and Sycamore will cause severe problems during construction to the contractor, as the streets have only one exit."

Council accepted a letter from the Historical Society from Louis Fernandez, president, saying that on Feb. 14 there will be a slide-film commentary program designating the buildings in Bay St. Louis to be nominated to the National Register of Historic Places.

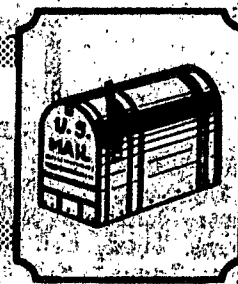

Council was unanimous in co-sponsoring the program being presented by Miss Adele Cramer, Architectural-Historian of Department of Archives and History, Jackson.

Fernandez said invitations are being sent to political leaders and owners of places being considered and the presentation will be open to the public.

Mayor Larry Bennett usually attends the Council meetings, but was absent due to his attendance of the National Association Regional Council in Washington D.C. The meeting regards different Federal funds that are available.

Sea Coast Echo

To the Editor:

I would like to address this letter to every person in Hancock County since our school system has to effect both adults now with children to educate, and every child that will be born here in the future.

The Hancock County School System is about to lose accreditation. This would be a serious blow to us all, and our children who would be denied a chance for a college education regardless of their work for outstanding grades.

Let's stop the political and sectional bickering and solve the problem, while we still can.

There is a solution, and it needs to be done now - right now and not after elections or by waiting until accreditation is lost.

At present, HNC elementary has 558 students in grades one through six; HNC Junior and Senior Highs have 815 in grades seven through 12; Gulfview Elementary has 405 in grades one through eight; and Murphy Elementary has 227 in grades one through eight.

If Gulfview and Murphy were made elementary schools with only grades one through six, rather than through eight grades as they are now, this would free four classrooms at Gulfview and 2 at Murphy.

Eliminating elementary grades one through six at HNC and transferring those students to Gulfview and Murphy would free 23 classrooms at HNC for Junior and Senior High students.

This would assure continued accreditation for HNC Junior and Senior High Schools.

With the existing funds available ($811,000), eight new classrooms could be added at Gulfview and eight at Murphy, and with the six made available by transferring the seventh and eighth grades from the lower end schools to Hancock North Central, 22 classrooms would be created for the elementary students at the two lower end schools.

This would guarantee continued accreditation at those schools.

Thus the whole system retains accreditation.

There is no disputing the facts, these moves must be made now before accreditation loss becomes a reality.

The school board's present plan calls for addition of 6 classrooms and administration offices at HNC; four classrooms and library at Gulfview; and two classrooms and library at Murphy.

It just doesn't make sense to follow this plan and lose accreditation.

I should think if the school board allows us to lose accreditation when the loss can be prevented they are guilty of malfeasance in office, and proper action will be taken to rectify that situation.

In the plan laid out above to save our schools accreditation, Special Education could remain at HNC, relieving some congestion at Gulfview and Murphy and still retain accreditation.

I personally intend to push with all my energy for this plan. Ironically Save Our Schools works out to S.O.S., an international distress signal.

What do you tell the children?

Sea Coast Echo

Editor

Dear Sir,

I am writing this letter regarding the issue of the talent show for the Sils-Prendergast Carnival team.

It is my opinion that since permission slips were sent home and signed by consenting parents, why not let the children participate?

Since the manner in which the auditions were held was not in agreement with most people, why not hold an audition at OLG?

What do you tell these children that worked practicing and getting costumes? (Incidentally it was a dress rehearsal.) Do you say, forget it, there's not going to be one?

I am one of those mothers who has worked for both schools in fund-raising campaigns.

So, why not do it right! Why disappoint these children because of the manner in which it was handled?

Oil money classrooms not enough to meet state standards: Randolph

By RICH ADAMS

The Hancock County School Board this week authorized Architect John Mykolyk to begin preliminary planning on proposed construction of 11 classrooms, three libraries, and an elementary administration building in the district.

The construction is to be partially financed through some $811,000 in 16th Section oil lease monies currently held by the board for capital improvements. Superintendent Terry Randolph said Tuesday the proposed additional classrooms will not bring the county school system into compliance with state accreditation standards.

Mykolyk estimates the cost of the proposed construction at $899,570, not including some $35,000 needed to repair the roof at Hancock North Central. Randolph said Tuesday the figures are estimates, and added once bids are received "the cost could be less expensive."

A proposal to use $811,000 in land lease monies as partial payment for construction was presented to the board at Monday's meeting.

Randolph said if costs exceed the estimated amount, the board will not build a planned administrative office at Hancock North Central.

Bob Perry of Mykolyk and Associates presented the construction proposal, including:

-At Hancock North Central, construction of six classrooms, an elementary administration building, a library, and "non-teaching space," such as corridors and a lounge, at a cost of $329,448.

-At Gulfview Elementary, construction of three classrooms and a library, total cost, $199,424.

-And at Charles B. Murphy Elementary, construction of two classrooms, a library, and corridors, at a cost of $173,622.

Perry said the board authorized him to have "preliminary plans and drawings prepared" for the construction, which he estimates will take some 60 days to complete.

After the plans are prepared, Perry said the board must advertise for bids for an additional 30 days, after which construction may begin.

"I doubt if the new buildings will be completed by the time school starts in September," Perry said. "Perhaps they will be ready by the second semester next year," he added.

Perry added the board said it will apply to the State Department of Education for added funds to complement the $811,000 the district already has in oil lease money.

Randolph said Tuesday he hopes the bids will be less than the estimates given by the architects.

"The figures are estimated on a square-foot basis, not from official bids. I am hoping when we take bids we'll receive a lower figure," Randolph said.

"If the bids are for more money than we have, we will delete the administrative office or reduce the number of classrooms...it depends on the bids," he added.

Randolph said he has applied to the Educational Finance Commission for funds.

The superintendent said the classrooms will not bring the system to state accreditation standards.

"If we build what is proposed with the $811,000, we won't even come close to meeting state accreditation standards," Randolph said.

"If the first bond issue had passed, we could have had the required number of classrooms to meet accreditation standards before school opened in September of 1979," he added.

"I doubt if the proposed classrooms will be completed by the start of next school year," the superintendent said. In other action Monday, the board approved purchase of 100 magnolia trees to be planted on all county school campuses.

Randolph explained that he chose trees costing $2.25 each over those costing $1.50 apiece because the more expensive trees "are more mature and hold up better."

A poll vote was taken, and a 3-0 vote in favor of Board Member Johnny Banks abstaining was recorded.

Also at Monday's meeting, a parent asked the board to authorize teachers at Hancock North Central to drive their personal cars to Gulfview and Charles B. Murphy Elementary Schools and act as chaperones on buses traveling to Hancock North Central.

Richard Patterson requested that the board reimburse teachers to make the trip, telling the board that his children wait each day for a bus to go to north Hancock County "at 6:15 a.m. before daybreak."

"Let them ride for the rest of the school year. Let them have a taste of what we eat and swallow each day," Patterson said.

Board President Woodrow Ladner questioned the legality of authorizing teachers to drive their own cars to schools in the southern part of the county and be reimbursed mileage.

"This would set a precedent. We would have to do the same in the extreme northern county. It is just as far a trip," Ladner said.

Patterson then asked the board members to make the trip on the buses. "I would like you to do it," Patterson told the board. "Let the board members try to make the trip," he added.

Patterson then asked if any board members or school employees had homes on 16th Section land and were not paying taxes.

Board Member Johnny Banks said his son has a home on the land, but always pays his taxes.

Patterson then questioned the validity of Bank's election on Nov. 7, asking why the board member election was valid if the first bond issue on the same ballot had been voided.

"Johnny Banks' name was on the same ballot as the bond issue...why wasn't that election (Banks') also thrown out," Patterson asked the board.

Board Member Monvel Cuevas explained that the bond issue was voided due to improper advertising, and the election commission had declared Banks' victory in the elections valid.

"I am not trying to kick Mr. Banks out of office. I just wanted to know," Patterson concluded.

The board then closed the doors of the meeting room to the public to conduct an expulsion hearing for a student.

Middletown project bid opening set

The Waveland Board of Aldermen Tuesday night approved a one-year, first phase of an almost $1 million Housing and Urban Development project for the Middletown section of the city.

The project is to be financed through a Community Development Program grant to upgrade homes, streets, sewer facilities and to install drainage and fire hydrants in the neighborhood.

The project is divided into two parts, said Ray Eaton of the Lewis-Eaton Partnership, an engineering firm employed by Waveland.

One part is renovation of streets, water and sewer improvements, additional drainage, fire hydrants, service connections and other related improvements.

The other part calls for the upgrading of homes in Middletown.

The first phase to be accomplished in the coming year and approved by the Aldermen this week is composed of portions of both street and home improvements.

With this first half of first year of the grant money, approximately 15 to 20 homes will be upgraded primarily in the Middletown area.

Advertisement of bids to complete work on the first phase of street, water, sewer, drainage and related improvements will be Feb. 8, and 15. The bids will be opened at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 21.

Mayor Longo said he plans to call a meeting in which the public and representatives of the Lewis-Eaton Partnership can meet and discuss issues surrounding the grant.

out," Ms. Gray said Monday. "They just asked for it...I don't know what the judge will do, but he can really come down on them," she continued.

"I look at this in a humanistic way...I know the board is under heavy pressure with the school bond issue, and they don't need any more pressure. All they have to do is reverse their decision," Ms. Gray added.

According to Ms. Gray, the board was also ordered by the court to conduct all recess meetings during hours convenient to teachers and the public, but she claims it does not comply with that order.

"They (the board members) hold recess meetings during the day, but we haven't said anything about that yet," she said.

Hancock County School Superintendent Terry Randolph said Tuesday

he had not received any word of legal action from the organization.

He said the board changed the meeting time to make meetings "more suitable for one board member."

Randolph said one board member works nights, and the 6 p.m. meetings are not convenient for that member.

Board Member Johnny Banks works an evening shift at a Jackson County shipyard.

The board has agreed to meet on Saturday mornings twice a month "to accommodate the public and teachers," Randolph added.

"A determination must be made whether Saturday is convenient for teachers and the public," Randolph said.

"The court order said the meeting must be at a convenient time...I guess the order deals with the regular monthly meeting," he added.

Board postpones Aero's takeoff as Stennis FBO

By LESLIE WILLIAMS

Hancock County Board of Supervisors Monday postponed hiring Aero International as fixed-base operator (FBO) at Stennis International Airport because of possible conflict over the company's interests at Gulfport Regional Airport.

Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission's recommendation Monday marked the second time the Commission has sought supervisor approval to hire Aero International as FBO for the Hancock County airport.

The Board delayed giving its approval two weeks ago until a final contract was drawn up between the Commission and Aero International.

TransAm International, previous FBO at the airport, was evicted from Stennis Field after owner Mel Anderson was reported missing and presumed dead in an alleged airplane crash in Columbia, South America.

Since that time, Commission Director Wilson Webb has been and continues to act as interim manager of the airport until a FBO can be found.

Aero International is presently FBO for the Gulfport-Biloxi Regional Airport.

"Because of phone calls we've been getting about hiring Aero International, I think we had better wait awhile until the Board, Aero International and the Port Commission can meet together," said Kellar, "so we can ask some questions."

"I prefer not to ask questions at this time," Kellar added.

Kellar and Webb arranged a meeting of the three groups for 7:30 p.m. Feb. 15 at Port and Harbor Commission headquarters.

During further discussion of the 'telephone' calls and their content Kellar said he preferred not to mention content of the calls during the supervisors' meeting. But then Kellar referred to the calls again, saying, "Maybe there is a conflict of interest."

Unconfirmed reports indicate the interests of Stennis Field would take a back seat to those of Gulfport-Biloxi

Regional Airport if both airports were under management of the same FBO.

Webb replied to statements from the board asking for a delay in approving Aero International by saying, "I have absolutely no respect for objections rejecting Aero International as FBO."

He added, "Aero International has a tremendous track record for doing a good job—Aero International is not going to just be caretakers, they are going to produce a viable business at Stennis International."

"They are professional people," he emphasized.

"They are going to pay us a certain monthly fee—plus," Webb said.

The Feb. 14 meeting at which the supervisors will ask the telephone-prompted questions of Aero International representatives, "Will probably be closed to the public," Kellar said.

The Board received the proposed contract between the Commission and Aero International then took the document under advisement.

The Board is expected to name the Stennis FBO replacement at its next meeting scheduled Tuesday, Feb. 20.

of each month, but Rutherford hasn't paid them, from January, 1972 to December, 1978," the sheriff contends.

Ladner said his bookkeeper, Cyndi Ladner, discovered the delinquent summons fee payments.

He said Ms. Ladner has been working in the capacity of bookkeeper in the sheriff's department during the last seven months.

"My bookkeeper made the discovery about three months ago," said the sheriff, "while she was reviewing my records."

The sheriff said he informed Rutherford of his bookkeeper's discovery.

"Then last month, January," the sheriff claims, "Rutherford decreased Ms. Ladner's pay from $4 per hour to $3.15 per hour."

"She worked 84 hours during the month of January. She's been getting $4 per hour ever since she started as my bookkeeper. That should bring check to $336, but Rutherford paid her $264.60 for the month of January," exclaimed the sheriff.

"I don't see where he has the right to change her salary without checking with me first," insisted the sheriff, "I think he is misusing his authority."

"Cyndi has told me she is going to quit and that she can not work at that salary," lamented Sylvan Ladner.

In addition, the sheriff told the Board of Supervisors Monday the Board was not being fair to the sheriff's department in regard to providing facilities for jurors during trials, citing the Depreo case as an example.

"I had 105 witnesses during the Depreo trial, some for the defense and others for the state, and I didn't have any place to put them," the sheriff complained.

"Three or four serious incidents almost occurred between people in the two groups—there were bad feelings among some members in the two groups and profanity was exchanged and a fight could have resulted if officers of the law had not been there to prevent it," he told the supervisors.

On the jury issue, the sheriff claimed at Monday's meeting supervisors had prevented him during the Depreo trial from putting prospective jurors in the supervisors meeting room adjacent to the courtroom because a board meeting was in session.

Also at this Monday's meeting, the sheriff claimed Rutherford told him he had to pay $360 in riding bailiffs fees from the sheriff's budget.

The sheriff said he hired two auxiliary deputies at $15 a day for 12 days to serve subpoenas—a total of $180 for each deputy.

"Judge Leslie B. Grant approved the bills for the deputies. I then took the bill to the Chancery clerk's office to be put on county docket with other bills to be approved by the Board of Supervisors," Ladner stated.

"Rutherford then told me I had agreed to take the riding bailiff fees out of my budget and that I had to pay the fee out of the sheriff's budget," exclaimed Ladner.

"I told him I didn't and that the fees should be paid out of the county fund. I don't see where he has the authority to tell me that anyway," said Ladner. "He isn't a supervisor."

"Just tell me if you are going to pay the riding bailiff fees or not. Judge Grant told me you could pay the fees and if you don't I'll file suit against you," the sheriff told the supervisors Monday.

Rutherford told the board a motion was not necessary to pay those bailiff fees, that he could pay the sheriff's department the fees from county funds.

Also at the meeting Monday, the sheriff criticized Rutherford for a sheriff's used car sale not being advertised properly.

"Why weren't my cars sold today...I will tell you why—you mixed up the advertisement," the sheriff exclaimed.

"Anybody can make a mistake," said Rutherford.

"I can see why you messed up the school bond issue...," added Ladner.

Board President Kellar then addressed Ladner saying, "Control yourself Sylvan—I will not have disorder in this meeting."

"You can't talk with him (Ladner)," added Kellar, "he's the laughing stock of the whole state."

Rutherford interjected, saying to Ladner, "You are just washing all the dirty linen in the press."

The sheriff concluded his remarks about Rutherford stating, "Monday afternoon, after the meeting with the supervisors, Rutherford gave one of my secretaries check payable to Cyndi Ladner my bookkeeper for $50.40 which raises her pay from the previous $3.15 per hour to $3.75 per hour."

"I guess by me bringing it out in the open Rutherford decided to pay Ms. Ladner," commented the sheriff.

Concerning the sheriff's allegations, Rutherford said Tuesday, "I don't even want to know what he said. It's an internal affair, and I have no comment."

In Bay St. Louis.

Williams said the car spun into a large culvert.

Hill was taken to Hancock General Hospital for x-rays and later taken to Gulf Coast Community Hospital, where a spokesman reported Hill's condition as "stable."

Police report a passenger in the car, Melody Surratt, 22, West Levene Street, New Orleans, La., was apparently uninjured in the mishap.

Williams said the car which Hill was driving was stolen from Metairie, La. earlier that day, and added an investigation is underway.

Hill is presently being held for charges of reckless driving, possession of stolen property, and causing damage, Williams said.

The Bay St. Louis Fire Department also responded to the emergency call

Saturday, Williams added.

The chief said Bay Police Investigator David Sellier and Patrolman Alton Benoit are investigating the incident.

A third one-car mishap in which a Bay St. Louis youth smashed into a telephone pole early Sunday morning has resulted in charges of driving while intoxicated and damage of city property, Williams said.

According to police, Melvin G. Ulmer III, 18, 388 Felicity Street, was driving north on Second Street when he apparently lost control of his car, tearing up a fence and snapping a telephone pole.

Williams said the youth was taken to Hancock General Hospital by his parents, where he was treated and released.

Investigator Sellier and Bay Patrolman Albert Biele are investigating the mishap, Williams added.

Tammy Quigley, 18, of Pass Christian was reported in "fair" condition at Gulfport Memorial Hospital Wednesday evening after suffering head injuries Sunday evening in a one-car mishap.

According to the Harrison County Sheriff's Department, Ms. Quigley was driving south on Cable Bridge Road less than a mile west of Lizana School Sunday when she apparently lost control of her car.

The car left the road and skidded 225 feet, crossed the road, and struck a tree.

Harrison County Sheriff's Deputies are investigating the accident.

Danny's offers Jaws special again Saturday

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Danny's Fried Chicken will repeat its 'Jaws of Life' special Saturday from 3 to 4 p.m., according to Buddy Morrow, owner.

The carry over of the Jaws benefit, according to Morrow, was because of the rain last Saturday.

Richard Payard, Bay Fire Chief said a demonstration will be held at Danny's using the Jaws of Life because the rain caused a second demonstration last Saturday to be cancelled.

Danny's Fried Chicken will make the same donations during the two hours as it did all day long last Saturday.

A unit of the 'Jaws of Life' on loan to Bay St. Louis Fire Department was used on a crash on Highway 43 Tuesday, putting emphasis on the need of such equipment, according to Chief Payard.

The program is sponsored by the Hancock County Firemen's Association as well as the Bay St. Louis and Waveland police, and Hancock County Sheriff's department. The Civil defense office is accepting the funds for the needed equipment.

Wagner replied, "We were at a stalemate so many months. I think we have to feel the good intentions of Burk. I feel Burk is going to do what they say."

On a call vote of payment of Burk the vote was three to two, Thriffliley and Benvenutti opposed.

Thriffliley said, "I am not in favor of voting for anything which Burk and Associates has anything to do with because I feel my people have been abused."

A copy of the letter submitted to the Council by Burk follows:

Gentlemen:

Pursuant to our meeting last Thursday night and in connection with the subject project, I would like to request that the city make payment of $2,499.62 to Williams Paving Company for their outstanding invoices reflecting work completed to date, less retainage. Partial payment certificates 9A and 9B are attached.

Additionally, I request that the city approve and make payment to Burk & Associates for our outstanding invoices which total $4,823.11. These invoices reflect engineering and field inspection services rendered to date.

Following your action per this request, we will instruct the contractor (Williams Paving Company) to go back to work and complete the project. We will work with the city, the contractor and the Highway Department through completion and Highway Department approval and acceptance. No additional bills will be submitted by Burk & Associates on this project.

At this point, I would like to add that I fully understand your concern over the way in which our resident inspector was assigned full time to the project without proper written authorization from the city. I sincerely regret and apologize to each of you personally for this oversight and assure you that any such authorization necessary to complete the project shall be personally handled by myself or an officer of the company.

Your yellow shirt
Your science award

These things are treasured more than you know.
Because we all love you so.
The time has come, 12 you'd

Winter Grazing

Cattlemen need to be especially careful when grazing ryegrass and wheat pastures during this time of year. Cattle grazing on these crops in extremely cold or wet weather can severely damage stands.

During wet weather, cattle will track and bog fields, which will make regrowth to a good stand difficult. Grazing during very cold weather has similar effects, plus frozen cells may be damaged. Each hoof-print will kill or severely damage the crops.

To prevent this damage, reduce grazing on wheat and ryegrass pastures during very cold, wet days. You might have to use more winter feed, but you will get more total forage production.

PLAN YOUR GARDEN

It is not too early for you gardeners to make preparations for a more productive garden in 1979. The first step to a better garden is through planning.

Start by selecting the garden location. This area should receive full sunlight and be near a water source.

Then, choose the vegetables you want to grow, considering available space, family eating likes and dislikes, freezing and canning needs, and your gardening ability.

Don't plant more than your family can use or maintain. Soil testing is a very important guide to help you to do a better job growing vegetables. It will tell you if you need lime and other plant elements needed to grow good vegetables.

Your County Extension Office will assist you with getting your soil tested. Bring about one pint of soil from the area you want tested to the County Extension Office. We will send it to the Soil Testing Lab for analysis.

Hancock parenting program Mental Health Center offers

The Gulf Coast Mental Health Center will offer a program on Systematic Training for Effective Parenting (STEP) to begin Wednesday at 7:00 p.m. in the Parish Meeting Room of St. Clare's Catholic Church, Waveland.

STEP is a realistic and sensible approach to parent-child relationships, offering practical alternatives to meeting the challenges of raising children today.

The STEP Program is not designed to imply parenting inadequacy. It does, however, suggest a desire to grow and learn new ways of communicating with and rearing children.

The nine week Program helps parents towards realizing what they want most: to raise responsible children, and to help them grow into responsible adults. Due to the cost of materials, there will be a minimal fee for participation in the Program. For further information, or to register for the STEP Program, contact Mrs. Renee Hamm at the Gulf Coast Mental Health Center, 1-863-1132 (toll free).

MASS OF COMMITMENT—The Confirmation Class of St. Clare Parish participates in a ceremony of commitment in preparation for reception of the Sacrament of Confirmation Thursday, April 26. Each student wrote a letter to Father Scanlon, pastor, requesting he or she be allowed to be confirmed and stating a commitment for the future to live as faithful Christians, following Christ with the help of the Holy Spirit. At the offertory of the Mass, students presented the letters to Father Scanlon. At the same mass Mr. and Mrs. Harris J. Ladner Sr. renewed marriage vows on their 25th anniversary. Confirmation candidates then received a light from the candles of Mr. and Mrs. Ladner symbolizing importance of the family, and a gift of faith received through their parents. (Photo by Ed Fayard)

State sites named to National Register of Historic Places

Eighteen Mississippi sites and one historic district have been added to the National Register of Historic Places since September, 1978, according to Elbert R. Hillard, director of the State Department of Archives and History.

Hillard was notified of the listings by Chris Therrell Delaporte, director of the Heritage Conservation and Recreation Service, Department of the Interior.

The sites, listed according to their dates of entry, are:

Library displays include dubloons

By JOE PILET

Several displays will remain on exhibit this month in the Bay St. Louis City-County Public Library throughout the month of February, including the June Dearman carnival dubloons.

Her collection includes 1,500 pieces representing Carnival crews from New Orleans and along the Gulf Coast and is attractively displayed in two large volumes designed to show both obverse and reverse sides of the coins.

Complementing the Carnival theme, Mrs. John Middleton has mounted a display of antique carnival association pins.

The pins represent favors from balls dating from as far back as 1897 and are both unique and of uncommon interest.

A costume from Nereids is also on display in the Main Reading Room. This Waveland based women's organization has established a reputation for elaborate costumes, beautiful parades and glamorous fun-filled balls. In mythology, the Nereids were the 50 daughters of Nereus and Doris. They were lovely and friendly sea nymphs who attended Poseidon and his wife. Although they lived under the sea they came to the surface to dance and play in the waves.

Waveland's Nereids include a group of daughters numbering approximately one hundred.

Also, to be featured February 19-23 in the Library's Crawford Room will be "Famous Mississippians" with an array of photographs, films, slides, books and papers.

Beginning February 19 and continuing each Monday through April 9, AARP volunteers will be available to assist those in need of help with their state and federal income tax forms. This is a free service.

HAY ST. LOUIS
The month of February brings birthdays of two presidents (George Washington and Abraham Lincoln), St. Valentine's Day, the costume balls, Mardi Gras Parades, plus the events celebrated by our seniors.
The social hour combined with special St. Valentine's prizes, the birthday party and the first Krewe of Seniors party to be held in Hancock County will keep every one active.

SOCIAL HOUR
All Seniors 60 years of age and older who have signed up for all recreational activities are invited to attend the social hour Monday, Feb. 12, at our Center on Old Spanish Trail at 1:30 p.m.

We have a fine variety of gifts contributed by area merchants for the game session, plus special St. Valentine's Day prizes for the oldest man and woman present. There will be a special door prize.

Those of us who drive, why not form a car pool and bring a friend or neighbor who has no means of transportation to our parties.

HERE AND THERE
Eddie Murtagh, Hancock County tax assessor and collector, informs me he and his staff are rendering a special service to all seniors of Hancock County, and the cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland for signing up homestead exemption.

Seniors who cannot get to the County Courthouse, please call 467-4425 and ask for Mr. Eddie Murtagh.

He will send someone to your home to assist you.

This is a service rendered by Murtagh above and beyond his call of duty; another one of our elected officials who serves our community.

On behalf of all seniors we thank Mr. Murtagh and his staff for this courtesy.

BENEFIT DANCE
Let's make a touchdown for the Senior Citizens, the handicapped, and Headstart children of Hancock and Harrison counties.

A Benefit Banquet, Dance and Celebrity Roast will be presented at the Coliseum Convention Center February 14, 1979, St. Valentine's Day, 7:30 p.m.

Sponsored by the Harrison County Community Action Agency and the Hancock Branch Office.

All money received from this event will go along with matching funds to assist all of the above mentioned programs.

For further information, please call Ted Anderson 467-3198 or 467-3199 at Webb Center, Third Street, Bay St. Louis.

FUNDING
Monetary backing for our Center is contributed by the State Department of Public Welfare, Hancock County Board of Supervisors, the cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland and the Hancock County Chapter United Way.

WAVELAND
The National Council of Senior Citizens Inc. Waveland Club, will hold its regular monthly meeting and St. Valentine's Day party on Monday, Feb. 12, 10 a.m. at the Waveland Civic Center on Coleman Avenue.

There will be games and special prizes.

CLOSING
Valentine's Day, Feb. 14, is known as the heart month, so I would like to share a few thoughts with you.

There's a very large edifice that can control and care for the whole human race.

Q. What's United Gas doing about new natural gas?

A. Plenty. North, South, East and West.

Wherever natural gas is found — and can be bought — United Gas is there.

It's tough competition. Other large pipelines want these new gas supplies for their service area.

United Gas has agreed to purchase a minimum of 400 million cubic feet daily from Alberta, Canada, starting in the early 1980's. We also have agreed to help build an 800-mile gas pipeline from the border to the Midwest — a line that will carry both Canadian and Alaskan gas when it becomes available.

This and other projects in which we are involved means gas for the Gulf South where our 8,900 miles of pipelines serve nearly 800 cities, towns, and villages.

Naturally these kind of investments will ultimately mean an increase in the cost of gas. But with the country's energy supplies at stake, something is becoming clearer each day.

Availability is as important as price.

UNITED GAS

...where the search for new energy never stops.

Art entries being accepted by Edgewater

Water colors, oils and acrylics as well as mixed media, pastels and drawings are being accepted for entry in the Edgewater Plaza Art Exhibit scheduled this year for March 11-24, according to Nellie W. Evans, director for that center.

Ms. Evans will accept works from both amateur and professional artists from Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana.

Entrance fee of $8 for two entries and only artists over 18 years of age may compete for the awards in excess of $6,000.

Professor Charles Ambrose will judge.

Pearlington subdivision removes litter

Twelve members of the Belle Isle Property Owners Association, led by Mrs. Dave Alkire; Mrs. Peggy Buller, secretary, and Mrs. Jeanette Burnsed, treasurer, formed a task force last week to attack the litter problem on streets in the subdivision.

Approximately one ton of bottles, cans and other debris was collected and removed.

"The association hopes the cleanup will be noticed by all litter bugs so that the improved appearance of our subdivision can be maintained," Mrs. Buller reported.

HOW IS THIS POSSIBLE?

"Action Prices" are temporary price reductions that A&P has received from product manufacturers. The reductions are due to many factors, but in any event A&P is quick to pass them on to you! But hurry, the supply may be limited, and you don't want to miss a single value!
